The Haitian population is currently facing skyrocketing prices, food and medical shortages, a fuel crisis, closed schools and barely functioning hospitals. These conditions exist against a backdrop of ongoing gang violence and political maneuvering, which includes varying forms and degrees of foreign interference. In this panel, Haitian professionals will discuss these pressing concerns and how Haitians are coping.

Guest Speakers:

Dr. Sabine Lamour, Sociologist, Feminist Activist and Researcher, State University of Haiti

Dr. Rony Saint-Fleur, Pediatrician and Head of Quality of Care, Justinien University Hospital

Maïté Trouillot, Educator and Administrator, Rasanbleman pou Diyite Ayiti

Radjiv Thaylor Zéphirin, Statistician-Economist and Artist Manager

Moderator:

Dr. Nadève Ménard, Educator and Translator, State University of Haiti & Affiliated Scholar of Haitian Studies at LACC, Florida International University
