FIU Modesto Maidique Campus, GL 220

"Artful Teaching and Learning: Integrating the Arts into the Curriculum"

This full-day workshop will lead participants through this "experience" with a series of activities combining the performing, visual, and literary arts. Particular attention will be paid to the performing arts as a means of embodying the target and/or native cultures in question. Participants will be given materials and models that can be applied to several fields within the K-12 and college curriculum for students of all levels and ages. We will be working with one theme via texts and the arts. Please note that Performing Text can come about in a myriad of ways.

The idea is to have a final outcome and to honor the work everyone produces.

No experience in the arts required. Wear comfortable clothes.
