

US-Caribbean Relations: From Trade to Economic Partnership

Wednesday, November 30, 2022
10:00-11:30 am EST
Online via Zoom

The existential crisis of CARICOM requires a wholistic approach by the U.S. which integrates economic, security and environmental aspects in a self-reinforcing program. In this webinar, Ambassador Dr. Richard L. Bernal, OJ will present on the current status of US-Caribbean trade and prospects for the future with analysis from experts in the public and private sectors.

Registration link:
<https://go.fiu.edu/Caribbean>

This webinar is part of the LACC/CPC Caribbean Policy Series. Free and open to the public but registration is required. Email ldudley@fiu.edu for more information.

Co-sponsored by the Caribbean Policy Consortium.

Presenter:

Ambassador Dr. Richard L. Bernal, OJ

Professor of Practice, Sir Arthur Lewis Institute of Social and Economic Studies, University of the West Indies, Jamaica and Fellow, Caribbean Policy Consortium (CPC)

Discussants:

Andrea M. Ewart, Esq.

Attorney and Founder, DevelopTradeLaw, LLC and Fellow, CPC

Eric B. Wolff

Regional Senior Commercial Officer, Caribbean Region, U.S. Commercial Service, US Embassy Santo Domingo

Moderator:

Dr. Anthony Pereira

Director, Kimberly Green Latin American and Caribbean Center (LACC), Florida International University (FIU)

Image source: <https://www.caribbeannationalweekly.com/caribbean-breaking-news-featured/caribbean-trade-legislation-passes-u-s-senate/>